PURPOSE:

The purpose of the Commissioned Ruling Elder in Pastoral Service (CRE) program is to prepare ruling elders for such pastoral responsibilities as missionary service, education, pastoral care, administration including moderating the session, preaching, leading worship, administering the sacraments, and officiating at marriages in congregations or a validated ministry of the presbytery selected by the presbytery through its Pastoral Ministry Team (PMT). The criteria for CRE are developed in accordance with the Book of Order G-2.10, G-3.0301 and G-3.0307.

DEFINITION OF CRE:

A Commissioned Ruling Elder is a full-time or part-time, salaried or volunteer ruling elder, called by God and affirmed by his/her session, and trained and commissioned by presbytery to be the assigned pastoral leader in a particular mission, parish or congregation. (G-2.10), (W-4.4002)

ADMINISTRATION:

The administration of the CRE training program shall be carried out by the PMT. The PMT will carry out the functions of recruitment, training, examination and certifying readiness for commissioning. For the training process it shall act for the presbytery according to the provisions of the Book of Order G-2.10.

The PMT cannot guarantee placement for any particular commissioned or commissionable ruling elder. Placement will depend upon the desires of the session, CRE’s willingness to travel or relocate and the appropriateness of the placement as discerned by the session, CRE and the Pastoral Ministry Team.

Judgments concerning standards, training, duties and compensation are to be on a case-by-case basis, approved by the PMT. Materials from the Office of the General Assembly shall be used as resources when making these judgments.

PROCESS

Introduction – CRE’s are not ordained ministers and will follow a separate “track” from those seeking ordination as teaching elders. The track includes the three phases of Seeker, Learner, and Commissioned Ruling Elder and does not require the same level of sophistication and knowledge as for those seeking ordination.

A ruling elder’s ability to preach, teach and lead worship comes more through experience and practice than formal training. Therefore, competency – rather than credentials – should be used as a basis for commissioning. This competency is to be understood in light of the place of local commissioning and not of the whole church.
Phase 1: Seeker – During this phase, a person believing that he/she has been called by God to be a CRE would seek validation of the call by the session and/or governing body, where there is such, and then by the presbytery through the PMT. The PMT will examine a candidate regarding his/her personal faith, motives for seeking the commission, and his/her knowledge in the areas of Biblical studies, reformed theology, Presbyterian polity and pastoral care, and worship leadership and sacraments as well as ministry expectations. The PMT shall also secure a criminal background check and a psychological evaluation by a qualified psychologist, approved by the PMT, during this phase. Cost of the psychological examination shall be paid 1/3 by the seeker, 1/3 by the seeker’s church, and 1/3 by the presbytery when directed and accepted by all parties. Cost of the criminal background check shall be paid for by the seeker. It is recommended but not required that a seeker complete the psychological evaluation, the criminal background check, and sign the presbytery’s Sexual Misconduct Policy before going into the learner phase.

Phase 2: Learner- Through training and experience, the learner would demonstrate competency in theology, Bible, preaching, worship, sacraments, polity, teaching and pastoral care. Upon satisfactory demonstration of such competency, appropriate examination by the PMT, the mentor (see definition of mentor below) shall provide the PMT written reports of the learner’s progress through the course of study.

Phase 3: Commissioned Ruling Elder – This phase is the formal commissioning of the CRE to a specific place of ministry. This commissioning is valid for a specified period of time (up to three years) and may be extended. There shall be an annual evaluation by the PMT. This evaluation and the initial evaluation shall include results of conformance to the following elements:

- Faith as expressed by: faith in Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior and belief in one God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit: Acceptance of the Old and New Testaments as the authoritative witness to that faith; ability to articulate clearly his/her faith commitment and journey.

- Maturity as expressed by: A ruling elder in the Presbyterian Church (USA) who practices faithful, regular participation in its worship and service; demonstrated pastoral ability; acceptance, understanding and faithfulness to one’s vows of ordination.

- Christian Life as expressed by: Moral standards acceptable to the Christian community, as defined in the Book of Discipline, PC(USA); commitment to personal spiritual growth through prayer, Bible reading and devotions.

- Constitutional as expressed by: Affirmative answers to the nine constitutional questions (W-4.4003 and G-4.0301); articulate and demonstrated affirmation of Presbyterian polity and practice.
POSSIBLE DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF CRE

- May be the primary or assistant worship leader and preacher of the congregations(s), allowed to conduct any or all of the functions outlined in the Book of Order as approved by presbytery on a case-by-case basis.

- Shall work under the supervision of the Presbytery through a mentor appointed by the PMT at the time of the commission.

- May perform other pastoral functions such as teaching, visitation of members at home or hospital, visitation of prospective members, conducting funerals.

COMPENSATION OF CRE

- Shall be established by written agreement between the CRE, the session of the church(s) served, or validated ministry and the PMT. The amount of compensation shall depend on workload, time involved, travel necessary, and volunteer considerations. CRE’s that are serving only as pulpit supply shall be remunerated at the same minimum rate as all pulpit supplies in the presbytery; for one service plus mileage at the standard presbytery reimbursement rate.

- May preach no more than four times in a year in pulpit supply relationship/vacant church without negotiating the CRE agreement.

4. First Conference with Mentor and member of the PMT

   a. This conference shall be held immediately following the action of validation by the PMT. There shall be four people present at the first meeting: the moderator of the learner’s church session, the mentor and one member of the PMT, as well as the learner.

   b. The purpose of the conference shall be to:
      1) Discuss and explain the CRE program and answer questions concerning the process and time-line.
      2) Discuss the assessment process.
         a. Assess if a person can perform in the competency-based skills (Section A-E of Assessment section).
         b. The learner shall fill out his/her assessment form and discuss it with the mentor.
         c. Following this conference, these same areas shall be assessed by several persons of the learner’s choosing, using the same instrument.
         d. Assessment in these areas shall respond to such questions as: “Did the sermon/class/funeral help you or challenge you?” Was the service appropriate for the occasion and similar questions directed to the needs of people, rather than academic questions such as, “Did the sermon carry through a theme?” or “Did the worship flow smoothly from beginning to end?”

d. A learning plan shall be agreed upon in areas of need by the Seeker, Mentor and member of the PMT. This will be known as the “contract for learning.” A copy of the contract for learning will be kept on file by the PMT. If more than one educational institution is part of the plan each institution will receive a copy of the learner’s plan and agree to accept the plan as certifiable.

e. Pursuing Learning

1) Learning plans may include a mixture of: self-study; studying one-on-one with a mentor; small classes with leadership provided either locally or by the presbytery; some formal classes at places such as the Western National Leadership Conference, as well as travel opportunities and online courses.

2) Advising and evaluating: The mentor and learner shall periodically but at least quarterly review the learner’s progress. This will include setting realistic time-lines for completing of work.

3) Evaluation of competencies (A-E): When the mentor and the learner are satisfied that the learner is competent in a required field, the mentor shall report that to the PMT and no further preparation will be required. A learner may be working on several competencies at the same time.

4) Evaluation of academic knowledge (F-I): Upon completion of a course (self-study, a mentoring program, or a small class with local or presbytery leadership), where there is such, to assess progress. If all agree that there has been satisfactory mastery of the subject, no further training will be required in that area. For courses taken at an educational institution, a certification form from the institution showing satisfactory completion of the course shall be acceptable.

5) Evaluation of the mental, emotional, and maturity level of the learner will be made using information gained to this point in the process. This is to include where the learner is in his/her faith journey.

6) If the mentor of the learner shall recommend that the learner not continue in the program, the mentor shall consult the PMT, which shall make a determination about the learner’s future status.

6. Final Steps

a. When both the learner and the mentor are satisfied that the learner has completed all requirements and is ready to be commissioned, the mentor will present the learner to the PMT for a final conference and appropriate examination. If the PMT is satisfied, it shall certify that the learner is ready to be commissioned.
b. When a commissionable position becomes available, the PMT shall approve the terms of the commission and present them along with the learner for the presbytery’s approval and commissioning.
c. The PMT shall oversee the placement of the CRE. This placement shall include a written agreement reached with the CRE and the session(s) or governing body of the church(s) validated ministry to be served as to the compensation and areas of responsibility, specifically the functions authorized to perform as per G-2-2.1001.
d. The Presbytery of Yellowstone Sexual Misconduct Policy will be reviewed and agreed upon by the learner prior to the final commissioning taking place. Copy of the agreement form is attached to this handbook.

8. Continuing Nurture
   a. An annual plan for continued improvement, study and contract renewal shall be worked out with the session, CRE, and the PMT mentor at the time of commissioning.
