Benefits

To Serve the Changing Church

A guide for congregations

Flexibility and Choice

The Benefits Plan of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) provides congregations with the flexibility to structure a benefits package that meets their unique needs and the needs of their pastoral leadership. Congregations are encouraged to have conversations with their pastoral leaders about their benefits needs.

Decision-Making Support

By covenanting together, congregations, presbyteries, and pastoral leadership can choose options that best meet their needs.

Church Consultants, located throughout the country, can help church leaders understand the Benefits Plan and the options available to them, and can guide faithful decision-making based on conversations among the congregation, presbytery, and minister.

Transitional Pastor's Participation

This optional three-year dues structure helps with the transition to the Congregational Pastors Package.

The noncontributory dues structure as a percentage of effective salary continues through Dec. 31, 2027, subject to cost increases. The continuing subsidies for family coverage help ensure that no one will lose benefits.

Eligibility

Transitional Pastor's Participation is available to all ministers enrolled in Pastor's Participation as of Dec. 31, 2024.

Cost

Dues for Transitional Pastor's Participation are paid entirely by the congregation or employer. Dues are the percentage of effective salary for medical coverage, detailed in the chart, plus 10% of effective salary for other benefits.

Access to assistance and education programs

Benefits Plan members have access to important assistance and education programs* that help foster wholeness. Some programs are designed specifically for ministers. Programs include:

- need-based grants through the Assistance Program, including financial assistance for emergencies, debt relief, transition-to-college and adoption-related expenses, and respite, vocational, and sabbatical opportunities
- CREDO, an in-person, weeklong conference focused on pastors' well-being
- lifelong learning programs, providing opportunities to learn about wholeness at specific stages of life, career, or ministry

*Member must meet program eligibility requirements.

A Theology of Benefits

“The very character of God as revealed in the Scriptures compels those who worship and serve God to “maintain justice, and do what is right.” Hence, from its inception the Church has affirmed just compensation for its servants. ... These concrete expressions of care extend God’s desire for shalom and well-being, helping church servants flourish in the holy and human endeavor of ministry. As the body of Christ, we demonstrate abundant life to the world as a community of faith, hope, love, and witness. A Theology of Benefits guides our work.”
