

Directions to Westminster Spires:

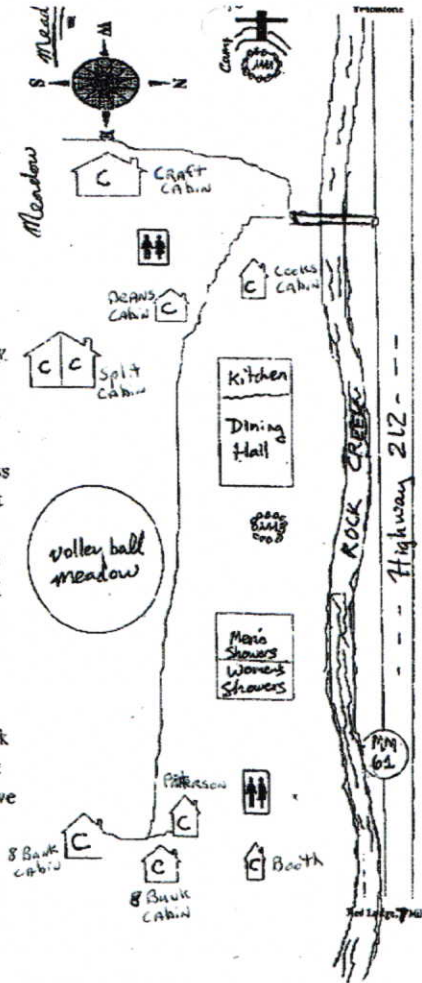

Westminster Spires is located 7 miles south of Red Lodge on Hwy 212 (a.k.a the Cooke City Hwy). The camp is on Rock Creek. That's uphill, and upstream, of Red Lodge.

Directions to Red Lodge: Take Hwy.

90 to Laurel, 12 or so miles west of Billings. The West Laurel exit is clearly marked "Red Lodge, Hwy. 212, Yellowstone Park". That's your route.

Follow the signs south, under the freeway and across the river (you'll pass a big refinery) and you're on the right route. It's about 42 miles to Red Lodge. Stay on Main Street through the town, and you'll find yourself still on Hwy 212 when town runs out. Rock creek is on your left the whole way up. Look for a brown sign on your left about 7 miles out of town. Note, the highway crosses Rock Creek shortly after you pass camp, so if the creek is on your right, you know you've gone too far!

George:

I've enclosed pictures of each of the buildings at camp and a crudely drawn layout of camp that I ran across in some old files. I also made a copy of the layout of camp that Sanderson Stewart put together when they designed the new water delivery system with the new well. This provides a more professional overview of the camp property.

Let me know if you need any other pictures or information for the insurance search that is being done.

I stay in contact with Madeleine each month to see if they have any new info on the bridge repairs. Still in limbo.

Hope this helps!
